SENSATIONAL EVIDENCE IN CORONER'S INQUEST

Nurse Did Not Notify Doctor Until 18 Hours Later
That Brennan Had Taken Formalin-Administered Food Without Consultation

The coroner's inquest regarding the cause of the death of George Brennan at the isolation hospital was commenced yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Dr. H. R. Smith presiding. The jurors were: John Kelly, foreman; Messrs. J. A. Kinney, Philip Wagner, E. W. Prothero, J. Grisenthwaite and Ed. Booth.

The evidence of Dr. Hyslop, who was attending Brennan, Dr. Braithwaite, the medical health officer, Sidney J. Main, the assistant medical health officer and O'Sullivan, the nurse, was taken. Another man by the name of John Staples, who was also acting as attendant is still to be heard regarding what happened at the hospital. Still other evidence may be sought in other directions, possibly by an examination of Brennan's stomach.

The sensational feature of yesterday's evidence was contained in Sullivan's admission that although Brennan had taken the formalin at 1:20 a.m. that Sullivan did not notify Dr. Hyslop until 7:30 the following evening, and that in the meantime he had treated Brennan and fed him without consulting Dr. Hyslop.

In opening the inquiry, after the jury had been sworn in, Dr. Smith explained to the jury that it was their duty to arrive at a conclusion as to the cause of the death of George Brennan, who died at the isolation hospital. It was not any part of their duty to charge anyone; but if they came to any conclusion as to who was to blame, if anyone, it was their duty to state their conclusions.

Dr. Hyslop was called as first witness. He told how he had been called by telephone on the evening of the 15th and asked, from Superintendent Carey's office, to take charge of Brennan. He had him taken to the isolation hospital, as there was no room at the other hospital. On the 16th, which was Friday, Dr. Hyslop visited Brennan and on Saturday at noon he went to see him again. While in the act of telephoning Sullivan on Sunday night, trying to get another man in, he received word from Sullivan that Brennan had taken a bottle of formalin and had drunk three ounces. The stuff was a narcotic, for the purpose of causing sleep. He went out Monday morning and found that Sullivan had administered an emetic which caused him to vomit. Dr. Hyslop received the explanation from Sullivan that he was answering the telephone and that Sullivan (Dr. Hyslop) said that he had taken the bottle to the ward to administer some of the formalin to another patient, leaving it on a chair while he answered the phone. While his back was turned, Brennan reached out and took the bottle and drank the formalin. Brennan seemed to be in his right mind, but was unconscious. When Dr. Hyslop saw him on Monday forenoon he seemed to be in good condition and the formalin apparently had not taken any serious effect. The doctor did not see him again until Wednesday night, at 10 p.m. He was notified of his delirium on Sullivan's coming into his office at 7:30 and asked how formalin would act on a man, and explained that Brennan had taken formalin during the night before. When asked what the formalin was doing there, Sullivan said it was using it as a narcotic. The paper was still on the bottle when Brennan took it, so that he could not have known what it contained. It was 2 o'clock Wednesday morning when Brennan took the formalin and it was 7:30 p.m. when Sullivan notified the doctor that he had taken it. He said at that time that Brennan was doing nicely and that he was not showing any bad effects. He said he had given him some oil, strychnine and told Dr. Hyslop that Brennan was doing nicely and there was nothing that he could do if he went out. At 10:30 he went to see him and found Brennan dead. In answer to Mr. Kelly, Dr. Hyslop said that all the medicines were supposed to be kept far enough away from the formalin as to be out of reach of the patient. He was satisfied that Brennan died from formalin poisoning.

In answer to Mr. Kinney, Dr. Hyslop said that Brennan had taken the formalin at once that he had drunk the formalin and that he thought it was Scotch, but it turned out to be formalin immediately applied emetics and the formalin was not, he said, over a minute on his stomach.

Dr. Smith asked Dr. Hyslop if he approved of Sullivan not notifying him until many hours after Brennan had taken the formalin. Dr. Hyslop said he did not, and that he had protested against similar treatment in the instance where Brennan took the bromide.

Dr. Braithwaite was called. He said his version could only be hearsay as he was not there at the time of Brennan's death. In the case where Brennan took the bromide, Sullivan telephoned for Dr. Hyslop and did not get him; then he came to Dr. Braithwaite's office and reported the fact that Brennan had taken formalin, saying that he was apparently all right. He left for Dr. Hyslop's office to report there.

Dr. Braithwaite, in explanation of how the bottles were there, said that he had ordered a general cleaning up of the typhoid tent a day or two before. The medicines were usually kept in a cupboard, but owing to the cleaning up, the bottles had to be removed to the tent where the other patients were.

VICTORIA IS WAKING UP

Industrial Development of the Island Promises City's Progress

Bulletin Special.
Victoria, Nov. 29.—The Victorians are celebrating today over the assured prospect of the rapid growth of the city consequent upon the announcement of the C. P. R. of its intention to spend $15,000,000 in clearing 150,000 acres of forest land tributary to this city and opening it for agriculture. This, with the prospect of the early establishment of immense ship building yards at Esquimalt, the construction of C. P. R. ocean docks there, the taking up of the timber reserve of C. P. R. on the island by an immense corporation and the important industrial and expansion movements justifies an optimism never before known locally and really prices this morning have advanced twenty-five per cent.

ENGINE CAUSED TWO WRECKES.
Winnipeg, Nov. 29.—One engine caused two wrecks and two deaths in the C. N. R. yards this afternoon. The collisions occurred within a few minutes of each other under peculiar circumstances. Four other men were badly injured, three of them so seriously that they are not expected to recover. The engine was running light out to the west yards when it collided with an incoming Northern Pacific express. The engineers when they saw the collision were inevitable both reversed their engines and the one in charge of the yard locomotive jumped. The locomotives came together and the express engine was derailed, the light one having been reversed and having remained on the rails at once began to back without a crew. It ran wild back into the yards where it collided with a bunch of freight cars standing at a siding, where a gang of men were loading heavy pieces of machinery. Cars were telescoped and men were crushed in the wreck, two being instantly killed and four badly crushed.

MANUFACTURERS WILL TALK IT OVER

Bulletin Special.
Toronto, Ont., Nov. 29.—A meeting of the tariff committee of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association is called for 2 o'clock this afternoon, which will afford indications of the manner in which the manufacturers in many different lines of production view the changes in the schedule of duties. W. G. George, chairman of the committee, until he has had an opportunity of going over the whole of the revised list. W. K. McNaught, M.L.A., who is also a member of the tariff committee, took a like stand, but remarked that it was understood by the C. M. A. that Mr. Fielding's intention was to maintain a general tariff on imports of manufactured articles from countries like the United States and Germany that kept up high protective tariffs and that on the imports of other countries, as France, which did not maintain so high a tariff favorable discrimination would be shown, while to Great Britain an increase of preference would be given.

ESTIMATES BROUGHT DOWN

Bulletin Special.
Ottawa, Nov. 29.—Estimates for the 9 months ending March 31, 1907 and for the fiscal year ending March 31st, 1908 were presented to Parliament today. The total estimate for the nine months is $72,605,864 of which $54,198,000 is on consolidated fund and for the year ending March 31, 1908 is $83,522,000.

Mr. Fielding said this was advisable although the details of the tariff would be considered afterwards. On Wednesday the House will always meet at 2, adjourn at 6. This was a new regulation last year.

A bill will be brought in to confirm the treaty with Japan.

Ottawa, Nov. 28.—Dr. McIntyre, M. P. for Strathcona, has been interviewed by the post office department with a view to amending the immigration law enabling British citizens from other parts of the Empire to be naturalized with three years' residence in Canada.

A bill will be brought in to confirm the treaty with Japan.

CAMPAIGN OPENS

The east end meeting last night packed Rudyk's hall to suffocation, even the stairway being filled to the street, and nearly a hundred men, unable to get seats stood up throughout the meeting listening to the speeches of the candidates for mayor and the "Solid Five."

J. R. Hetherington, J. R. Brenton, Andrew H. Allen, and other aldermanic candidates were present but were not invited to speak, the chairman, Mr. Letson, announcing that it was an east end meeting and that their candidates should have all the time necessary.

From the point of view of the Solid Five the meeting was a decided success. The oratorical triumph of the evening was the closing speech by F. W. Brown, chairman of the organization committee, in which he attacked the city hall and especially the system which had been adopted of financing the street railway project, succeeding in this role in arousing great enthusiasm. The other speakers kept to a plain statement of their position on the municipal questions.

According to the arrangement, two of the mayoralty candidates, Ald. Bellamy and Griesbach were allowed fifteen minutes each and Mr. Dawson, the third candidate, was given twenty minutes, the first two being given five minutes each to reply. Alderman Bellamy led and Alderman Griesbach followed.

Mr. Bellamy said he wished to be understood in the commencement as talking straight business, not oratory. It had been mentioned that the people of the east end thought they had not got justice. He wished to say that until this agitation came to it had not been even thought of where any member of the city council lived. Edmonton could not afford to have any sectional differences, if the city was going to make its franchises effective. He said he did not pretend to be an orator, that his solicitation had always been on a basis of business only; that his training had been a business training and that he thought that what the city wanted at the present time was a business administration.

Taking up the east end platform he pointed to the promise to extend the five limits and argued that the extension of the limits would have a tendency to prevent the construction of a class which while they might not be of costly brick and stone, were a benefit to the city.

Referring to the C. P. R. agreement he said the city needed all the railroads that it could get; as for the smoke nuisance he would like to see a smoke stack in every block if it gave employment to labor. If the city had the pay roll the people who did not like the smoke could find plenty of room beyond the smoke to build their houses.

Mr. Bellamy closed by asking for the votes of the electors in a strictly the votes of the electors on a strictly

PETITIONS ALL SIGNED

Every Resident Property
Holder on McDougall wants Paving to Isabella

The announcement made in the morning contemporary that McDougall at property holders did not want the street paved was a long way from being true. Some of them refused to sign the original petition, but that was because the paving project did not extend far enough north. The petition which K. W. McLeod, himself one of the largest property-holders on the street, took out yesterday called for paving McDougall from College Ave. to Isabella street. It was sufficiently signed within an hour after it had left the city hall, and this morning the name of every resident property-holder on the street has been put on the petition. Some few non-residents are being communicated with by wire and their names will probably be added before the petition is laid before the city council.

FINANCE MINISTER INTRODUCES NEW TARIFF

Three Grades in New Tariff--Preferential, Intermediate and General--Encouragement for Trade With Britain

Ottawa, Nov. 29.—The revised customs tariff upon which the government has been working for three years was presented to parliament by Finance Minister Fielding today.

The new tariff is made up of three separate columns. "One," the British preferential tariff; "two," intermediate tariff; "three," general tariff.

The first applies as at present to Great Britain and British Colonies which already enjoy its benefit.

The intermediate tariff is not brought into actual force at once but held for the purpose of negotiation with foreign countries who may be desirous of trading with us on a fair basis. The government's purpose is to hold it as a standing offer to all foreign countries to make reciprocal tariff arrangements with the Dominion. By this means it is hoped to increase Canada's markets abroad. The general tariff applies for the present to all foreign countries and those points in the British Empire which have declined hitherto to trade with us upon a reciprocal basis. The flat preference rate of one-third off in favor of Britain is abandoned each item in the customs classification being dealt with individually. The finance minister's claim, however, is that the net results will be to a considerable extent the scope and practical advantage of the British preference. In some instances the preference is more than one-third, in others less in consideration of Canadian industries and revenue purposes.

Mr. Fielding reiterated his desire to divert trade as far as may be from foreign into British channels and the new tariff is framed so as to specially encourage the sale of British iron and steel goods in this country. In some instances the preference has been increased by raising the general tariff rate and maintaining the present custom duties against the mother country. Certain classes of goods heretofore free from any part of the world will be still free from Britain but subject to moderate charge when purchased from foreigners.

For purposes of convenience the new tariff abolishes the cumbersome fractions and as a result goods now dutiable at 16-3 per cent. will pay either 15 per cent. or 17-1-2 per cent. Where the old preferential rate was 18-1-3 per cent. the new one as a rule will be 12-1-2 but in some cases it is increased to 15. Old preferential rates of 23-1-2 per cent. become as a rule 22-1-2. For example on pig iron the preferential rate is reduced from $1.66-2-3 to $1.50, the general tariff remaining at $2.50. The intermediate tariff is as a rule about 10 per cent. less than the general tariff schedule so that in a case where the latter is 30 per cent. the middle or intermediate tariff would be 27-1-2. The surtax against Germany is retained with the hope expressed, however, that negotiations will lead to its withdrawal at an early date. The dumping clause likewise remains and is now extended so as to cover free goods as well as dutiable. Lumber comes under the dumping clause.

Grouping classifications, the tariff is entirely changed, a new schedule is made and the phraseology has been altered as experience has shown desirable. The revenue will not be materially effected by the changes. The duty on agricultural implements is reduced from 20 to 17-1-2 per cent., windmills from 25 to 20 per cent. Farmers are also allowed certain increases on agricultural products. The duty on unleaded ice is wiped out, oranges, lemons and limes are placed on the free list. The steel bonuses are extended on a sliding scale to 19 per cent.

The surplus for the nine months ending March 31st next will be thirteen millions of dollars. After all expenditures are met there will be one million and a half left to reduce the public debt.

Strathcona Merchants Suffered This Morning

Burns Co. and Sugarman Worse Sufferers in Fire in The Parish Block This Morning. The Brigade Prompt But Unable to Control Blaze

Shortly after five o'clock this morning the citizens of Strathcona were awakened by the fire alarm for a blaze in the Parish Block, opposite the railway station in Whyte avenue.

The wooden building was a complete mass of flames when the firemen arrived in a remarkably short time, and it appeared a hopeless task to save even the adjoining brick structure on Whyte avenue, which was separated only by a wooden partition. The brigade quickly to work however and soon had three streams of water playing on the fire. Nothing could be saved from the inside as it was impossible to gain an entrance in the face of the heat and smoke. By hard work the firemen were at last able to prevent the spread of the fire and to save the walls of the building. By seven o'clock the blaze was under control, but continued to burn in the rear of the building till after eight o'clock.

The origin of the fire is not known, but it is supposed to have started in the office of P. Burns & Co., who occupied the corner part of the building. The bookkeeper had left the office between nine and ten o'clock last night and left everything apparently safe. It is thought that the fire had been burning a great part of the night, as much of the inside of the building was in flames when first seen from the Strathcona hotel across the street.

The Parish Block was occupied on the ground floor by P. Burns & Co. and the clothing department of Mr. Sugarman's store. The stock of meats, poultry, etc., of the Burns people, which was large, and considerably increased by a shipment yesterday is almost totally destroyed.

In Mr. Sugarman's stores it is estimated there is between twenty and thirty thousand dollars worth of stock, the clothing being badly damaged by water, of which there was about a foot deep on the second store after the fire had been got under control. The adjoining stock is also considerably injured by the smoke.

Upstairs in the Parish Block were the offices of John R. Laval, barrister, Dr. L. Austin, dentist, the Strathcona Agencies, Major Remington; R. Whyte & Co., real estate; and Sharples & Co., painters. Nothing was saved.

The building was erected in 1893 and the present owners are Messrs. J. J. Duggan, P. H. Sachs and John Walter. It is well covered by insurance.

The stock of Mr. Sugarman is also fairly well insured as is that of P. Burns & Co.

—The Ansell case it is understood, will be heard in the Supreme Court next Tuesday.

—Miss Flanders will hold a sale of Xmas work at her studio, corner Victoria Ave. and Seventh St. on Saturday afternoon and evening.

—Frank Alfred, of the Canadian White Co., Montreal, is looking over the trunk sewer today with the city engineer.

—The monthly meeting of the Ladies' Musical club will be held at the home of Miss Alice McDougall at 4.30 p.m. Dec. 1st.

—In All Saints' Church next Sunday will be observed as a special day of intercession for Missions. The Rev. will preach at both services.

—W. J. Belfrage shipped five cars of oats from Oliver, to Port Arthur yesterday and is loading 300 bushels more today for shipment to the same place. He claims that farmers shipping through him on commission beat the local price by 8 to 10 cents a bushel.

—Corp. Daniel and Canon d'Esmang, of Port Saskatchewan, who intended to be present at the C. M. R. smoker last night, missed the train. The station agent told them the train was two hours late, but contrary to custom and expectation, it pulled in on time.

—G. Lote's Big Miniature Show held the boards this evening in the Edmonton Opera House. This is an entirely white company and enjoys a fine reputation. They promise new songs and jokes, and the latest comic ditties. A matinee will be given Saturday at 3 p.m. Tickets at Archibald's.

—Mr. C. E. Marker, dairy commissioner for Alberta is in the city to-day. Mr. Marker says the total output of the Government creameries has been disposed of. This year the 18 creameries made 1,650,000 pounds of butter from 1,822 patrons. The butter has realized a good price all around. May product was sold for 22-1/2, June July and August for 20-1/2 and the remainder will probably realize between 24 and 25 cents.

—The following new books have been received at Alberta College library: Encyclopaedia Americana, Quilts' History of France, 6 vols., Natural History by Lydaker, 5 vols., Plutarch's Lives, 39 vols., Bible, Bible and Ancient Manuscripts, Canadian Annual Review and a complete set of the records of the Geological Survey. The copies of the Natural History and Bible, Bible and Ancient Manuscripts are the gifts of Mr. P. E. Butchart.

—Commissioner Coombs who was billed to address a public meeting last evening at First Presbyterian church was unable to reach the city last night. The afternoon C. & E. express did not arrive at Strathcona until midnight. The Commissioner came as far as Ponoka, and went back to Calgary where he addresses a meeting this evening. An effort will be made by the Salvation Army to have him come to Edmonton as he returns from the Coast. A large audience assembled in the church.

—A meeting of the members of the Alberta Poultry and Pet Stock Association was held last night in the Trades and Labor Hall. Mr. J. A. Stowell presided. Mr. A. W. Foley of the Department of Agriculture gave an address. The purpose of the meeting was to make preparations for the poultry show next February. A committee consisting of Messrs. P. S. Mattson, F. Taylor, N. Turnbull and W. Lister was appointed to consult the various breeders of poultry and promote interest and enthusiasm in the meeting of the association next February. Any person wishing to co-operate in the movement are cordially invited to correspond with any of the committee, or Y. T. Richards, the secretary, Strathcona.

THE FIRST SKIRMISH.

The preliminary skirmish in a session of Parliament takes the form of a debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne. The "speech from the throne" corresponds to the "message" sent by the President of the United States to Congress. It is supposed to foreshadow the legislation which the Government will propose during the session. In the debate to which it gives rise, however, the members do not confine themselves necessarily to the subjects suggested in the speech. The opportunity is usually taken to wander freely over the political situation and discuss things in general. In consequence and according to the plans of the leaders the debate may or may not reveal the general course to be pursued by the respective parties during the session.

This preliminary bout took place on Friday last, when Mr. Pardee, member for West Lambton, moved the address in reply to the speech, seconded by Mr. Demers, of St. John-Iberville. The mover and seconder referred to the prosperous condition of the country and for the main confined themselves to the subjects mentioned in the speech. They were followed by the leader of the Opposition, who took occasion to wander afield and deal with a variety of matters, nearly all of which he had dealt with in previous sessions and on which he had apparently nothing new to offer. He looked back to last session to say that Mr. Pardee had supported the purchase of supplies for the Arctic, told the Liberals that they had instilled low tariff ideals into the farming population, endeavored to excuse his conspicuous absence from the by-election in Queen's-Shelburne by a belated reference to the issues of that contest, went back to the organization of the western provinces to say that Sir Wilfrid Laurier had opposed the selection of Mr. Haultain as Premier of Saskatchewan, regretted that there was no reference to transportation in the speech from the throne, and promised the support of the Opposition in any measure calculated to prevent corruption at elections. There were few subjects in the list which had not been discussed in the House and no subject long ago and little on any of these which had not been said over and over again. If the speech of the Opposition leader is to be taken as an index to the course of his party during the session the country may expect little from the supporters of Mr. Borden but a rehash of discarded issues.

Mr. Borden was followed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who referred first to the matter of corruption in elections. Speaking of London, he said:—

Mr. Gibbons told us that the friends of Mr. Hyman having fought two elections and won fairly and having been deprived of the seat by unfair and fraudulent methods, the came to the conclusion that they would fight the enemy with the devil's fire. Well, no greater mistake could be made if the Grits undertake to fight the enemy with the devil's fire. I do not know how it is but it appears that the Tories can always see the devil's fire. They seem to have seen made for it. It seems to be congenial to them; they can do it almost with impunity, but when a poor Grit undertakes to deal with the devil's fire, he burns his fingers every time. That is actually what happened in London. The poor Grits undertook to deal with the devil's fire and what do we see today. Therefore, it is better for our friends, I say it in all sincerity, that they should not follow these Tory methods, but that they should fight an honest battle.

Sir Wilfrid set at rest the charge Mr. Borden had attempted to resurrect regarding the Saskatchewan premiership. He said:—

"I never had a word of communication with the Lieutenant-Governor of Saskatchewan as to the party whom he should call to his council. But the utter of Mr. Scott is very plain. Mr. Scott says Laurier had been of the opinion that Haultain should be called as premier as soon as the province was organized, but the conduct of Haultain, taking the partisan position he did in regard to the Autonomy bill, in the opinion of Laurier disqualified him from such a course as that. That was my opinion. I was not aware of that letter from Mr. Scott until it was read last session by Mr. Lake. I had been under the impression all along that as Mr. Haultain had been premier of the Territories he should be called upon to be first premier of the province of Saskatchewan or of Alberta, but when I saw that Mr. Haultain was taking such a partisan position, such a hostile attitude towards the Autonomy bill and the education chances of the Autonomy bill, I came to the conclusion it would not be wise that Mr. Haultain should become the premier. Did I give advice to the Lieutenant-Governor? There was no Lieutenant-Governor at that time to advise. But I advised my friends who were going into conventions to select the leaders of their party organization, if at they could no longer take Mr. Haultain, that they must have another man and that is why that letter was written by Mr. Scott advising his friends over the province to forego the attitude which had been taken by them up to that time that Mr. Haultain should be leader of the party. My political friends in the Northwest had been giving their political allegiance to Mr. Haultain before the organization of the Territories into provinces and I saw now reason why the same thing should not be continued. They discarded their political differences. They agreed to let them go and have simply an administration which would deal with matters provincial, local and municipal, altogether independent of party. I was of the opinion when we first commenced the discussion of the Autonomy bill that the same thing might go on but when I found the attitude of Mr. Haultain in this respect, much against my own grain I had to change my attitude."

Mr. Foster followed, thus making it clear that however much a section of the Opposition may desire to dispense with his services this desire is shared neither by his leader nor by Mr. Foster himself. That the ex-minister of finance should be put up to reply this important occasion to the Premier is sufficient evidence that his official status in his party has not been changed either by the revelations of the Insurance Commission or the polite adieux of those of his friends who prefer his absence. That Mr. Foster was to be officially retained as second in command was made reasonably certain by the promptness with which Mr. Borden came to his defence, where the revelations were being made; it is but a belated doubt by the place of honor assigned him in the first debate of the session. And that his talents are to be utilized along the line of their recognized merit was also made clear by the fact that Mr. Foster with singular appropriateness regarded the House with an oration on the misuse of money.

From this preliminary debate, two things stand out clearly—first, that the opposition leader finds a woeful scarcity of new issues of sufficient importance to deserve a place in his general review of the situation, and second, that regardless alike of friend and foe, Mr. Foster remains as lieutenant to Mr. Borden.

C. M. R. SMOKER.

The C.M.R. smoker given last night at Houston's Hall in honor of Major Paton was a most successful and enjoyable affair. About 100 gentlemen were present including representatives of the different military organizations of the city, and prominent citizens of Edmonton.

Capt. Belcher presided. A splendid program of songs and toasts was given. Flawless orchestra furnished the music. The chairman proposed the health of the King which was loyally responded to in truly soldierly style.

Col. E. B. Edwards responded to the toast of the "Army and Navy." He said all soldiers of the King always drank this toast with loyal fervor, and red coat marked the dignity of England. Whenever the red coat is there the soldier is among friends. It was a source of pride that within the last few years the Canadian forces had been put on a different footing. The Canadian word coat can now hold his head as high as any soldier in the army of Old England. He paid a tribute to the work of the Canadian soldiers who went to South Africa and suffered for the excellent work done by the C.M.R. in camp last summer. Speaking of the navy he said Canada should do something towards the maintenance of the navy of the Empire.

Major Jamieson in speaking to the same toast said he would like to see all the Canadian soldiers in the service in any part of the empire, and that Canada should do her share in the maintenance of the empire in supporting the navy.

The toast of "The Province of Alberta" was responded by Hon. C. W. Cross, and Lieut. Griegbach. Mr. Cross expressed his pleasure at being present to do honor to his friend Major Paton. He remembered the time when Houston's hall was a large place, but last night it was a large place to accommodate Major Paton's friends. Alberta was a rich province and compared favorably with any Province in the Dominion. The people of Alberta were coming to believe we have a country out here. The day will come when Ottawa will not be the centre of Canada possibly as much as Edmonton. Referring to military matters he said every Canadian was proud of the manner our boys upheld our honor and prestige on the field of war. The people of a sparse population sent out a force that won an enviable position, and he had no doubt the C.M.R. would equally distinguish themselves if they had the opportunity. He wished Major Paton bon voyage, and was sure he would never strike a place where he had as many friends as in Edmonton.

Lt. Griegbach agreed with the remarks of Mr. Cross concerning the resources of Alberta and the splendid work that comprised the C.M.R. He thought more should be done by the government to utilize the military spirit in this country. He thought it was time Edmonton should have a drill in response to the toast of the evening. Major Paton said he could not adequately express his appreciation of the honor done him by his friends. Military men always appreciate it. When a boy he joined the Cadet Corps of the Grammar School in Toronto, and later became a member of the 43rd ROR. He remembered the call for the Canadian Voyagers to Egypt, for the young men in the Northwest rebellion of 1885 and for the South African contingent. Those who could volunteer did so, but those who had previous military training were better adapted for service and discipline. He was proud to be at the head of the first militia organization in Edmonton. He hoped the units would come soon when a drill hall and facilities for serving our equipment. At the conclusion of the major's speech, these remarks were given:

Among those present were: Col. E. B. Edwards, Major Jamieson, Surgeon Major H. H. Paton, Captain Pearson, Lt. Marshall, Lt. Ritchie, Lt. Harbottle, Lt. Griegbach, Lt. Osborne, Lt. C. Brown, Sgt. Major Lee, Sgt. Major Tipton, Sgt. Major Martin, Hon. C. W. Cross, W. F. Bredin, M.P.P., Messrs. A. C. Fraser, A. W. Brown, Norquay, McGeorge, J. B. Mercer, F. Fraser, J. H. Lines, A. W. Taylor, W. S. Weeks, J. B. Gardner, Whitby, Cernack, Hill, Murch, McLeod, A. J. Pinder, D. Moore, E. W. Meikle, Chas. Carter, Gervase Phillips, E. Fridlington, J. H. Heberington, N. W. Hethcote, E. H. Holliday, O. G. S. Eason, Hobson, Dawson, Richards, Niles and others.

Major Paton intends to leave on his wife's trip on Dec. 18th, for Vancouver, whence he will sail on Dec. 24th by the "S.S. Empress of China" for Japan and thence to Australia. He intends to return to Edmonton about April 1st.

SENSATIONA EVIDENCE

The typhoid tent had had at times as many as twenty patients. There were men walking around the city with temperatures of 103 and 104 and they had to be taken in.

Mr. Kelly asked Dr. Braithwaite if he was satisfied with the hospital and the conduct of the nurses. He said he thought it all right as a temporary hospital, and of the conduct of the nurses he was always satisfied.

In answer to Philip Wagner, who asked if such a thing as Brennan's death could happen in a first class hospital, Dr. Braithwaite said that it could, under similar circumstances, when a house-cleaning was under way. Dr. Hyslop, in answer to a question, said that the formalin was in a bottle. There was another similar bottle containing methylated spirits close by.

Dr. Braithwaite said that it was only fair to Sullivan to say that Sullivan had not touched liquor since the trouble last March.

Asked if he thought Sullivan did right in not notifying Dr. Hyslop until the following evening, Dr. Braithwaite thought that Sullivan was wrong in that respect; that he should have notified Dr. Hyslop at once. But he did not think the results could have been different.

J. O'Sullivan the nurse was called. He said Brennan was under the influence of alcohol when he arrived and on the 16th he was still suffering. He asked for morphine, but Sullivan refused to give him any, administering bromidia instead. On Sunday evening when he went to give Brennan bromidia he heard the telephone, and having the bottle of bromidia on the chair he went into the other room to answer the phone. It was a nurse's voice from Dr. Hyslop saying that he was sending up another patient, and it was half an hour before he got through fixing up a bed in another room for the new patient. When he went back he picked up the bottle and noticed that it was almost empty. He challenged Brennan at once with lampring with the bottle and Brennan denied that he had taken the bromidia or not. A few minutes later Brennan went to bed and as soon as he lay down Sullivan could see by his breathing that he had taken the bromidia. Sullivan gave a stomach pump and gave him a grain of strychnine within the hour. He considered the grain a large dose, but Brennan was in a very dangerous condition and he had to have something to keep his heart action going. He did not call Dr. Hyslop because he could not leave the patient and there was no one else in the ward who could get up to do it. He notified Dr. Hyslop and Dr. Braithwaite between 10 and 11 o'clock.

Asked if he considered Brennan insane, Sullivan said he considered him a very intelligent man, but addicted to drink. There was not the slightest indication of insanity. From the time that he recovered from the bromidia, Brennan appeared to Sullivan to be getting along nicely. On Tuesday night Brennan went to bed at 11 o'clock and Sullivan went to bed half an hour later. At 1.30 in the morning Brennan took the formalin. When Sullivan awakened Brennan was in the other room standing up alongside where the formalin bottle was. Sullivan was sleeping in such a way as to almost block the doorway and Brennan must have gone very cautiously to get past him. Brennan said he had drunk formalin. Sullivan forced olive oil, sweet oil, carbonate of soda and warm water down his throat and then used a stomach pump. He then got Brennan back to his bed and administered stimulants and used hot water bottles.

Sullivan said he did not send for Dr. Hyslop because he did not have time, and that he did not have time until 9 o'clock, during which time Brennan was a maniac. At 5 o'clock Brennan fell into a quiet sleep and Sullivan thought that it was not necessary to call Dr. Hyslop as he believed he was competent to handle his case. Brennan improved all day and at noon Sullivan gave him some boiled chicken, three eggs, three crackers, some scrambled eggs and some soda water. Dr. Smith asked Sullivan if he considered this good treatment; what condition he thought Brennan's stomach in when he gave him the food.

Sullivan said that he did not think there would be anything wrong with his stomach as the formalin was not in his stomach a minute. He thought Brennan was better when he went down town at 7 o'clock. He was in Dr. Braithwaite's office between 8.30 and 10 when the telephone message came in that Brennan was dead.

Asked how he accounted for the sudden change, Sullivan said that was what was puzzling him. He had not feared that Brennan would take anything after the bromidia experience, as his condition seemed to be much improved.

Sullivan said that when he left he gave the night man, James Staples, instructions for the night, telling him to give Brennan an egg and at 10 o'clock. It was when Staples went to give him the egg that he found him dead.

Dr. Smith asked Sullivan if he, in the capacity of a nurse was supposed to treat patients who were dangerously ill without consulting the doctor.

Sullivan hesitated a great deal and it took ten minutes to get a direct answer. He said that unfortunately all the doctors except one unloaded all their work on him. He was then asked if he was certified to practice in this country. Finally he answered "I am not."

Dr. Smith then asked why he did it in this case.

Sullivan hesitated again, and Dr. Smith asked him, if as a nurse he was supposed to know what diet to put on the man after he had taken formalin. Sullivan also avoided this question, saying "I am in a very mixed capacity."

Sidney Main, assistant medical health officer was called. He said he knew nothing, except by hearsay. The only reports he had were from Dr. Braithwaite. He said he had only seen Brennan once, on a Saturday or Monday, he was not sure which and he seemed as though he was just recovering from a sleeping draft, but did not appear to be insane.

This was all the evidence that was ready and Dr. Smith asked the jury to withdraw and see if they could arrive at a verdict, or whether they required further evidence. The jury was not out over five minutes when they returned and said they had decided that it was their duty to adjourn and call further evidence. The hearing was set down for Monday next at 8 p.m., when James Staples, the man who found Brennan dead, will be called and other evidence taken.

was available to put the fire out.

To a question from the audience asking what his views were on the ward system, Mr. Griesbach said that he had hoped that the necessity would not arise, but now that it had arisen and they were morally certain to have it in fact they might as well have it in law.

Referring to Mr. Dawson, he said he occupied the comfortable position of having no record to attack, but at the same time he had no experience in the council and by the same token he could not claim the knowledge necessary to fill the office of mayor, and he failed to see how Mr. Dawson could have any claims for the mayoralty.

Mr. Griesbach closed by stating that he had no platform except his record. He had been elected last time on the promise that he would give every man a square deal. He now was before them with the claim that he had given a square deal and that he had regarded a public office as a public trust.

Mr. Dawson opened by saying that he had, as Mr. Griesbach had said, a comfortable position inasmuch as he had nothing to account for. He had not taken any particular interest in municipal affairs, any more than the ordinary citizen, and got most of his information from the newspapers. This had at least an advantage, that he approached municipal affairs with an open mind and would have to study them without bias.

All that he promised was that he would use the same discrimination and judgment in the conduct of the city's business as he would in the conduct of his own.

Referring to the east and west end controversy, he said that he honestly believed that the east end had not gotten a square deal—but at the same time he thought there was a grievance for the west end also in the closing of Athabasca and Peace. In regard to his policy, he was strongly in favor of pushing the water and sewerage as rapidly as possible. He said this city was on the verge of an epidemic last year and he hoped, if elected to push this part of the work so fast that there would be no danger of the same thing happening over again. In closing he said he hoped that the fight would be a clean one and at least that the candidates would be friends after the meeting as they had been before.

W. R. West, the first of the east end candidates to be called upon, took up the part of the Solid Five platform which referred to the city hall. He said he was strictly of the opinion that the trouble was, as the platform said, in the city hall. He had had experience. In fact without having had experience he would not be a candidate. He gave as an instance of the way the east end was being used, the experience of the people of the Jasper avenue extension in trying to get local improvements. The petition, he said, had been one of the first ones to go in, but the commissioners lost the petition, and then when the petition was dug up and passed the commissioners did some of the work and then the petition was lost again. It was dug up a second time and the petitioners asked to have the work done, but the frost and snow had come and the petition put in last spring was not yet fulfilled, although acted on long ago by the council.

Mr. West said that if Ald. Griesbach meant by the ward system two members in the east end and six in the west end, then he did not want the ward system on those grounds.

Mr. Koerman, editor of the Alberta Herald, said he did not intend to make a long speech; one of the witty councillors had said that the danger from new aldermen was that they talked too much. He was not going to come under that category. He asked the electors to vote for the solid five and the five would do their best to protect the city's interests with a special eye to the rights of the east end.

Cameron Anderson said that if elected he would try to do the best he could for the city at large, especially the east-end. He said they had not got justice in the east end and he had experience in that respect on Clara street, when they had petitioned three times for a water main and were only now getting it. He was relieved of his kick just in time for of an epidemic, as stated by Mr. Dawson, but was in the throes of an epidemic all the time. He calculated that there were at least 500 cases of typhoid in the city this summer and at least 25 or 30 deaths. Typhoid was a filthy disease, a preventable disease, one that there was no excuse for if the city's water and sewer works were in proper condition.

He again asked for the support of the Solid Five. He promised if the Solid Five were elected that the sanitary conditions and many other conditions would be changed. Ald. Bellamy, in his reply to the opposing majority candidates, said he had nothing to say regarding Mr. Dawson's remarks, but he thought Mr. Griesbach went out of his way to make personal remarks. He denied that he had ever shown any preference to the west end or any end. Regarding the statement that he had said the laborer counted the city his meat, he had said in council many times that anyone who had anything to sell to the city considered the city his meat. It was not a case of the workman alone, but the capitalists and everyone else.

Regarding the sewer and water extensions he said that in all conscience, did the people not think that here had been a good showing during the year.

Ald. Griesbach said that as Ald. Bellamy had said that everyone considered the city his meat, he supposed that also included implement men. F. W. Brown, chairman of the organization committee for the Solid Five, closed the meeting. He said that there were five men to be elected and they had asked the electors to elect five. It was charged in some quarters that the east end was asking too much; that they might have been allowed to elect three or four, but that five was too many from one section of the city. Why did they ask the election of the Solid Five? Because they needed five to carry out the reforms promised by their platform.

Express Agents Strike

St. John, N.B., Nov. 29.—It is announced tonight that the strike of Canadian Express agents along the line of the Intercolonial railway is settled. The strikers were telegraphed and station agents who have been acting also as agents of the express company. In April last they struck for more remuneration. For several days past a committee of strikers has been in session at Moncton and tonight it is announced a compromise has been reached, the agents to receive a minimum monthly salary and 5 per cent. on business done.

BRISTOL AND CANADIAN TRADE.

(Bristol Evening News.)

Mr. F. B. Girdlestone, the general manager of the Bristol docks, who is at present in Canada, has been interviewed by the Edmonton Bulletin. The following is taken from the Canadian paper: "I want you to think of Bristol as a great and growing centre for Canadian trade," says Mr. Girdlestone, and with that idea in view he is travelling through Canada interviewing traffic managers and exporters of all kinds and delivering brief lectures to boards of trade, chambers of commerce, city councils, and all sorts of representative bodies. As a part of his programme he addressed a meeting of the board of trade at the city hall this morning.

The reason why his pilgrimage is particularly timely at present is because the city of Bristol is just completing what are called the Royal Edward docks, at a cost of $15,000,000, and that these docks are designed and built with a view to capturing Canadian trade.

Bristol is, in its way, a wonderful city. It has only 400,000 inhabitants, not considered a large city in Great Britain; yet it has spent $30,000,000 on docks, and the Bristol docks belong directly to the city and are managed directly by the city, Mr. Girdlestone being the general manager. He claims that Bristol will have when finished, the best facilities in Great Britain for handling freight, that Canadian freight is already the chief trade of Bristol, and that they want and intend to get practically all our trade. As an instance of what can be done in the way of quick handling, he cited the fact that a Jamaica liner, carrying 70,000 bunches of bananas were unloaded in nine hours one day last summer, and an hour later the fruit was on its way to the consumer.

Mr. Girdlestone claims some credit from Canada as having been the chairman of the committee which retired the old Grand Trunk management under Sir Henry Tyler and placed Sir Charles Rivers Wilson and his assistants in control, which change led to the rejuvenation of the Grand Trunk and eventually to the building of the G. T. P.

Mr. Girdlestone pointed out what he considered one very grave defect in the transportation system between Canada and Great Britain. He said that Montreal at the present time is altogether inadequate as a shipping port, and that if Canadian trade grows as it promises to grow there will be perfect chaos there in five years unless the government undertakes some great systematic scheme of harbor improvement in the immediate future.

A NEW HOCKEY RINK.

Some difficulty has arisen between the Thistle Rink management and the Edmonton Senior Hockey Club, as a result of which the hockey club yesterday secured a site centrally located for an open air rink, and unless a satisfactory arrangement is arrived at with the rink management, the hockey men say that an open air rink will be proceeded with at once. Plans for the new rink have been drawn and show comfortable dressing and waiting rooms under a large grand stand.

Fire at Banff.

Banff, Nov. 27.—The Sanitarium hotel had a narrow escape from fire this morning. The building known as the sample room, immediately west of the hotel, was burned to the ground. The burned building was occupied by about forty foreigners who were working on the waterworks. They lost all their effects. One had a broken leg, jumping from a window.

At 3 a.m. when the fire was first noticed it had hold of the whole of one side of the building. The alarm was not given to the village for ten minutes and when the brigade arrived there was no chance to save the building. The damage was confined to the building in which the fire started.

No damage was done to the main building. The guests were not alarmed as the fire did not threaten the Sanitarium seriously, being held in check by the brigade.

WABAMUN.

Wabamun, Nov. 26.—A very light fish catch is looked for this season owing to the limited number of permits being issued.

John A. McPherson, M.P.P., visited among the people of this vicinity and at Lac Ste Anne last week looking up the road work and other items of general interest to this district. It is needless to say that he received a very cordial reception.

A. E. Pattison and family spent a day or two with friends at Lac Ste. Anne last week.

C. H. Dunn expects to be able to receive customers at his large new store next week. He has in connection with it a well-appointed post office.

Thomas Priestly, of Onaway, is to assist in the church services in this vicinity this winter to prepare himself for the ministry.

ST. ALBERT.

Correspondence.

One of those happy and pleasing events, which mark an epoch in the lives of the parties concerned, was celebrated in the Cathedral on Monday, when Miss Mary McDonald, became the wife of Mr. Angus P. Gilles. Punctually at 10 o'clock, the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March pealed forth, and the bride entered, leaning on the arm of her brother, Mr. John McDonald. Rev. Father Beaudry spoke the magic word in the presence of a number of immediate friends and neighbors.

The bride looked very charming in a handsome gown of gray velvet, trimmed with Valenciennes lace. Miss Maggie, sister of the bride, who acted as bridesmaid, was very becomingly attired in blue cashmere. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. John Gilles. At the conclusion of the ceremony the party repaired to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McDonald, where a sumptuous repast awaited them. That being attended to, the drive was continued to Strathcona, where Mr. and Mrs. Gilles, amidst a shower of rice, left for their honeymoon in British Columbia.

The splendid array of presents gave full testimony of the esteem, in which the bride is held. We shall be delighted to welcome the popular young couple to our town, where Mr. Gilles is engaged in business.

GOOD MUSIC PROMISED.

Edward Parlovitz, pianist, Alya Bateman, the eminent English soprano and Miss Grace Merry, the popular Toronto entertainer, will appear at the Edmonton Opera House on Tuesday evening, December 4th, as the Parlovitz Concert Co. Miss Bateman is an artist of many triumphs in England, and both she and Edward Parlovitz, her accompanist have recently toured the world with Walkin Mills. Miss Grace Merry the Toronto entertainer is an eloquent of unusual ability.

The Winnipeg Tribune says:—"Mr. Parlovitz, if there is poetic truth in piano music, is an artist who can play himself, or—to use a synonym—his music into the hearts of the people. Musical Winnipeg, young and old, recognized last night that they were listening to a young and talented pianist of remarkable gifts."

ROSEDALE

Being a new addition to the Western Doorway of the Dominion, Vancouver, B.C.

THE EASTERN LAND COMPANY, LIMITED.

After a thorough investigation, selected the present site of Rosedale as the nearest, most accessible and best situated piece of property for subdividing in or adjacent to the City of Vancouver. The key map shows its location, with Fifth Avenue, defining its northern boundary. Adjoining Rosedale on the east are 51-1-2 acres belonging to the Vancouver and Yukon Railway; while on its western limits is found a continuation of City lots, Ninth Avenue being one of the best known thoroughfares of the City; it passes through popular Mount Pleasant, westward, with the General Hospital, Normal and High School on the south, through Fairview until the well-known Ideal Suburb at Point Grey is reached.

ROSEDALE IS FINELY SITUATED. The index map will show its close proximity to a very large number of the leading industries of the City. With the very rapid development of Vancouver, it is safe to predict that it will form an important section of Canada's western metropolis.

Lots are now placed on the market for the first time at low prices and easy terms. All will prove a sure investment for home-seekers, as well as, the man for a "turn-over." For particulars apply to the general agents for Rosedale, FOR EDMONTON.

Britisher's Impressions

From "Canada, the New Nation," by H. R. Whates.
(London, 1906, J. M. Dent & Co.)

The following excellent reference to Edmonton and the Edmonton district is from a recent book entitled "Canada, the New Nation," by H. R. Whates (1906 London, J. M. Dent & Co.). We have not yet had an opportunity of perusing the book in question, but if the rest of the book describes other portions of Canada as accurately, the work should make a very valuable addition to literature on the Dominion.

Mr. Whates is a journalist by profession, being on the staff of one of the big London dailies. His agent, a Sunday in Edmonton in the summer of 1905, and managed in the short time at his disposal to carry away with him a wonderfully accurate impression as to the resources of the district. Mr. Whates was shown some courtesy by the board of trade and was driven through Clover Bar, Agrioola and Horse Hills settlements, via Fort Saskatchewan.

Edmonton, the capital of the province of Alberta, lies nearly a day's journey by rail northward from Calgary. On the east, some hundreds of miles, are the rich valley lands of the Saskatchewan. For about fifty miles to the south and also to the north, and westward to the foothills of the Rocky Mountains, is a tract of rich black soil. The soil of the Edmonton district is of the first order.

The city of Edmonton is beautifully situated on the north shore of a tortuous and tree-covered ravine; the river winding about some two hundred feet below and looking like a silver ribbon carelessly thrown down over yellow gravel and sand. Here, at Strathcona, on the south of the ravine, is the terminus of the branch line from Calgary. But this is not the only railway to serve the district, for the main line of the Canadian Northern has passed through the Saskatchewan Valley to Edmonton. Moreover, the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway will go through Edmonton on its way to the ocean. Then again the C. P. R. has located a line from Edmonton running south-east through the vast peer-occupied tract enclosed by the forks of the North and South Saskatchewan. And from Edmonton a line is to run due north to Athabasca Landing, towards the great waterway of the Peace and Mackenzie Rivers. What do these things mean? Edmonton is destined to become a railway centre such as Winnipeg now is. That is one reason, apart from the richness of the land, why I suggest that this unknown district may in time become the home of millions.

Settlement will surely up the Saskatchewan Valley, and, in fact, doing so today; it will pass northward, over the arid lands east of Calgary to the rich soil of Red Deer Valley, and thence to Edmonton, and beyond that town to the Peace River region.

That is not a wild prophecy. The directors of the G. T. P., the C. N. R. and the C. P. R. do not lay railroads through lands which are not habitable or do not possess solid attractions to homesteaders. They know the soil on which their trains will pass. They are not likely to have formed an erroneous judgment as to the numbers which will throng along the lines of communication. Population, indeed, is moving northward and westward to Edmonton now. The land is being taken up rapidly, and though the acreage yet available is reckoned by millions, the early comers will snap up the best locations—those which are nearest to the lines under construction, or shortly to be built.

Daily, while I was in the region, a trainload of homesteaders went north from Calgary. The majority of them went on to Edmonton to search for land on the north Saskatchewan. That process will be repeated next year, and the next, and for many years, over the existing lines and over lines now being constructed. There can be little doubt, Britisher impression continued that the region of which Edmonton is the centre will contain a very considerable population. It is a spacious home for England's excess of population. It is the great Chinook winds which make the winter temperature of these northern Edmonton lands appreciably higher than that of Manitoba. As a matter of fact, grain is successfully grown here, and, in the north of Edmonton, for the Hudson's Bay Company has a fine modern mill working at Fort Vermilion, while there is another at Peace River Landing, 300 miles north.

But Edmonton is essentially too an area for mixed farming. Hog-rearing is already an important industry. Cattle and sheep do well. There is a bountiful supply of timber for log house-building and fuel; and in this respect the region has an advantage over any homesteading land west of the third meridian.

Nature, ever lavish, has furnished the Edmonton country with natural gas and illuminable coal, which lies just under the prairie and crops out in the ravine of the Saskatchewan. The Edmonton farmer purchases his fuel, a valuable commodity that acres which are yet unsuitable will make his children, or at least his children, rich men and women.

Balf News

A grand inaugural reception and banquet was tendered by the citizens of Bawit, on the evening of the 29th, to the representatives of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, on the inception of their bank at this place.

The Dining Room of the Union Hotel was brilliantly decorated for the occasion. At the appointed time the guests arrived. Mr. Scovell took the chair and after a sumptuous repast the evening was spent in toast making and speeches. The manager of the bank at Bawit, Mr. H. I. Miller, as well as the local manager Mr. A. E. D. Band and cashier Mr. T. B. T. Hewett were present. Mr. Miller replied on behalf of the bank and thanked the citizens for the courteous way in which they had been received. The Bawit Brass Band and Quartet added their part in the entertainment of the evening, and a very pleasant time was closed by singing the National Anthem.

Bawit has tributary to it a territory second to none on the line and is surrounded by one of the finest agricultural districts in the west. It receives as well as the local trade the business from Ferry Point and across the Baute river. The fertility of the soil in these districts has been shown by the fact that for years they have been settled by rich class of farmers and ranchers. The country also abounds in the finest of coal.

Miss Elzabeth Pearce, daughter of one of the prominent business men of Norwood, Ont. and graduate of the Toronto Conservatory of Music was visiting friends here. Miss Pearce is a cousin of Mrs. D. A. Fraser of the Bawit Hardware Co. Miss Pearce has been on a visit of five months through the United States and Canada and after visiting Mrs. J. Fraser, Carstairs and Mrs. Thos. Fraser, Calgary will return home for Xmas. Mrs. D. A. Fraser, Mrs. L. H. Kirkpatrick and Mrs. J. A. Bradley each gave a dinner in honor of Miss Pearce, who delighted the different gatherings with her performance on the piano.

The following are the recent additions to Bawit, station, school, church, creamery, post office, billiard hall, jewellery, hardware, barber, harness, machinery, residences.

There is a good opening for the following who would do well to correspond with the firm of J. Bradley & Co., blacksmith, baker, harness maker, dentist, tinmith, shoemaker, laundry.

FAREWELL BANQUET

Red Deer, Nov. 28.—Between forty and fifty representative gentlemen of the town and vicinity, gathered at the Arlington Hotel last night to do honor to Mr. A. Scott, who departs today for Edmonton. The banquetting hall was thrown open at about 10 p.m. and after grace had been said by Canon Hinchliffe, the guests were seated and enjoyed the good things provided. The presentation was made by Jno. T. Moore, M.P.P., who in position as townmaster called on Geo. F. Root for a few remarks. Mr. Root responded in his usual witty fashion and on behalf of those present, presented Mr. Scott with a beautiful gold chain and Masonic emblem as a token of the esteem held for Mr. Scott by the people of Red Deer. Mr. Scott replied briefly, thanking those present for the honor conferred upon him and assuring them that the chain would be for him a token of the many warm friends he was leaving behind him in Red Deer.

WHICH MAKES BUSINESS GROW?
An Article Must Have Superior Merit to Back up Publicity.

"Our business for the first six months of 1906 shows an increase of over $200,000," said Charles E. Slater, President of the Slater Shoe Company. It was Mr. Slater who asserted positively at the beginning of the year that he was opposed to any increase in the tariff on shoes, and he held that a good shoe which made its goodness known need have no fear of American competition. This substantial increase for the first half year in the sales of Slater Shoes would go to prove his contention in his own particular case. The Minister of Finance, Hon. W. S. Fielding, asked a shoe man, "Why don't you advertise like Slater does?" Mr. Slater says, "Why don't you make shoes like Slater does?" Kelly & Moore, Exclusive Agents.

Saskatoon has organized a young men's Liberal club.

Saskatoon council refused to grant the Hiacche Brewing Co. a 15 year tax exemption for establishing in that city.

The council of High River will submit a bylaw authorizing the town to incur an indebtedness of $15,000 for the erection of a town hall.

Rev. D. E. Hall has tendered his resignation as pastor of Saskatoon Baptist church, and at the beginning of the year will associate himself with the Baptist Home Mission board work.

R. H. McDuffee has decided to leave Raymond and accept an important position in Montana. He is president of the Raymond board of trade and one of the most progressive men in Southern Alberta.

High River Times: The shipment of grain from this point passed the quarter of a million mark. Last night, Mr. Bishop, of the C. P. R., stated that 255,000 bushels had been shipped and were they only able to supply the cars the figures would be 300,000. At the present time it is rather difficult to procure shipping cars owing to the fact that nearly all box cars are pressed into service to relieve the coal depression in the west.

Saskatoon Phoenix: The Bank of Montreal has secured one of Saskatoon's best building sites, corner of Twenty-second street and Second avenue, west side, opposite the new Phoenix building. Fifty feet have been secured by the Bank from Mr. Wm. Warner. The price paid Mr. Warner by C. E. Strickland was $14,000. The bank paid something over $300 a foot and consider they got a bargain. Mr. Warner paid $4,000 for the property last February. It is understood the bank will erect an imposing structure next year.

The Oddfellows of Innisbush celebrated the opening of their new rooms over Geary's drug store by the initiation of eight new members. There was present by invitation a number of prominent Oddfellows from different parts of Alberta, among whom were Mayor May, of Edmonton; Grand Master Stynes, Calgary; Past G. and Master and Mr. Marsden, from Didsbury. There was a good attendance of local members. The visiting brethren were entertained at a banquet at the Alberta, and a very enjoyable evening was spent.

Regina Leader: The entire staff of the emergency hospital with the exception of the matron and one probationer threaten to strike on Saturday unless the hospital board withdraws a regulation passed at the last meeting, cutting the salaries 40 per cent to practically the same level as the nursing staff of the general hospital. The emergency hospital is filled entirely by typhoid patients who are pushed in an old room. Nurses are incidentally complaining bitterly of inconveniences and discomforts. The hospital directors have wired to Ottawa for nurses of the Victorian Order to take the places of the strikers and the latter will be paid the old scale until these arrive.

The Canadian White Company's work, west of the Saskatchewan river at the west side of the city of Saskatoon is about completed for this season. There have been employed there since June 1st, a large steam shovel with a dipper capacity of three cubic yards; two locomotives and forty dump cars. The work done comprises an embankment 4,000 feet long and averaging twenty-five feet in height. Material for this big fill was taken from the centre line, cutting 3,000 feet long, and two side cuts eight feet below the grade. This leaves the roadbed practically an embankment all through and thus obviating difficulty from snow.

World's Markets

(Reported by the Canadian Stock and Grain Co.)

Chicago, Nov. 28.—Cattle are suffering from a lack of outside interest. Eastern demand for cash oats in increasing and with the extremely small stocks at all points it is not probable that a very rapid upward turn will soon take place. For the time being only a good scalping market may prevail but on the break would take on July and May oats.

STOCK GOSSIP

London money market—Money 4-1/2 to 4-3/4 discount rate, short bills 5-1/4.

New York, Nov. 28.—Stocks had a good break yesterday on profit taking and preholiday liquidation. It is believed the market is now a good purchase as an all around bulge is imminent.

New York, Nov. 28.—Would buy the good stocks on any soft spots in the early trading. The rise in M.K.T. stocks, the Hill distribution and the Union Pacific statement are all wait-and-see factors and will have very good effect both in London and on the continent.

New York, Nov. 28.—Tips are out that an early upward movement will be engineered in Texas Pacific. Bull points from London on C.G.W. London has often had advance information on this property. M. K. T. is aggressive and strong on the strength of the report that J. H. Hill is seeking control to project this system to the Gulf of Mexico.

New York, Nov. 28.—Stocks — The stock market opened strong and quite active this morning, stimulated to considerable degree by higher prices from London and the good feeling which prevails towards our stocks there. After the first hour trading became less active and the market gradually lapsed into a pre-holiday dullness and wait-and-see attitude. There was some profit taking by longs during the last hour which brought prices down slightly, but the close though quiet was fairly firm. We are still firm believers in the long side of this market and advise friends to buy these stocks on all dips in the low priced and medium priced issues, they are sure to enjoy a good substantial advance now. Among these, we are told to buy Texas Pacific, C & G. West and Erie.

DAILY MARKET LETTER

Winnipeg, Nov. 28.—Wheat was extremely dull and dragging today. First prices were practically unchanged but the different cables and some what larger receipts in the North West induced selling of some volume and prices worked off 1-1/2c. A fair demand developed and full recovery of loss followed. Prices closed a shade lower than yesterday. There was nothing in the news to warrant traders in taking a decided stand on either side of the market. King of Toledo makes the Kansas wheat crop 92,000,000 bushels against Government figures of only 87,000,000 bushels. Export sales continue large and clearances today totaled 514,000 bushels, wheat and flour. Primary receipts 860,000 bushels against 834,000 bushels a year ago. Shipments 745,000 bushels against 329,000 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis stock decreased 10,000 bushels for four days. With the December option out of the way and the fear of heavy liquidation in this month would cause corresponding weakness in the other options, a much better trading market is looked for from now on and purchases on the little dips seemed to be the most profitable procedure.

SIX SAILORS

DROWNED

Toronto Globe — The great waves which yawned hungrily throughout a long day and night off Toronto Island for the steam barge Resolute gained their prey in the early hours of yesterday morning. The prize of the storm was the ship and six sailors. The long contest had been unequal. The barge had a consort to protect and the chances of a safe haven cut off. More than once its crew had maneuvered to escape from the terrific fury of the gale into the safe waters of the harbor, but the shallow channels presented dangers even worse than the sea could fear in the open lake. The best harbor upon the coast was in sight of the crew of the Resolute, but the storm had blocked the entrance and kept the vessel in the open, where the wind could work its will.

The following were on board—John Harrison, chief engineer, Deseronto.

Thomas Topping, second engineer, Deseronto.

David White, deck hand, Prescott.

Harry Gregory, fireman, Bath, England.

John Barnes, fireman, Port Colborne.

Nels Nielson, Sweden.

Captain John Fahy, St. Catharines.

Andrew Hicks, wheelman, Milford.

Michael Haney, mate, Buffalo.

"Yes they have realized that it is there to stay and have adapted themselves largely to the circumstances. There are really only one or two ways in which it bears upon the shippers. For instance if a consignment of cattle arrives upon a falling market, it cannot be held for a rise. Then again there is a class of stock which might be shipped to advantage. This class of cattle is furnished to the English and Scotch feeders by Irish raisers from whom a great deal of the opposition to removal of the embargo comes."

"You have adopted a policy of encouraging mixed farming on the plains, have you not, Mr. Finlay?"

"Yes and we are meeting with success too. Wheat in Alberta has proved a great success. A great deal of the wheat grades number one hard. Last season some of it was winter killed, but this was owing to the late sowing. Experts say that winter wheat should be sown not later than August 15, while the most of this killed, was sown after September 15, and did not get time to mature sufficiently before the frost came."

"Oats in Alberta have proved the finest quality and largest yield in the world. Sugar beet culture is a success and has been a large benefit to the farmers of Southern Alberta. It is a peculiar thing that this crop seems to improve the land year after year."

REFUSED THE LICENSE

The Lacombe Advertiser of Thursday last is out with a violent attack the license commissioners of that district for having refused to grant a license to Geo. H. Poulson for the Queens hotel.

The license commissioners are Messrs C. H. Olin, Wetaukwin, Joe Speakman, Penhold and Dr. Finlay, Lacombe.

Inquiry at the deputy attorney-general's office elicited the information that the Lacombe license board had acted on a petition presented by people living in the immediate vicinity, who protested against the granting of the license on the grounds that it was within 70 feet of the Presbyterian church, immediately across the road. The board refused to grant a license to sell liquor in such close proximity to a place of public worship.

FROM DAY TO DAY

AN INTERESTING VISITOR.

It is one of the attractions of Edmonton that it draws to itself people from many corners of the globe. And some of the visitors are both interesting and charming.

Lady Von Haast, of Vienna, who is at present the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Ferris, possesses both qualities in such a degree that when one called to learn something of her travels for the Bulletin readers, a previous engagement limiting the time seemed very hard to keep.

For Lady Von Haast is as familiar with life in Vienna and Bucharest and Moscow as we are with our own Montreal and Toronto and Ottawa. Her keen powers of observation and a remarkable memory have stored away treasure bits of art and folk lore and politics; and best of all, she has the vivid faculty of making these live again as she presents them to your mind.

With the charming accent and voice of an English gentleman, with the animation of a Viennese and the practical viewpoint of a Canadian, combined in her person, one is not surprised to learn that Lady Von Haast is of English descent, but that her early life was passed in a colonial home in New Zealand and her later years have been spent largely at Vienna with visits to various European centres. She is a cosmopolitan, with all the interest that attaches itself to the world.

Knowing Lady Von Haast had spent some time with her son on his farm outside of Vermilion there seemed some ground for the question directed at every newcomer to this side of the Atlantic—as to her impressions of life here.

And just because Lady Von Haast is a woman and of quick sympathies she wasted no words dwelling on the undoubted material resources of the country. She talked of people and of life.

"There can be no comparison between country life in your west and on continental Europe," said Lady Von Haast. "Educated people or people of the higher classes simply could not bring themselves to do the work they will do here. They leave it entirely to the peasants."

Then entering into the work on her son's farm at Vermilion, Lady Von Haast sketched in amusing fashion the commonplace details of the work. We caught a vivid picture of an earnest and cheerful young couple overcoming all the difficulties of new work in a country where servants are at a premium. The fact that they had come to Canada from Burmah, where five or six native servants are necessary adjuncts to a household like theirs, rendered the situation more piquant.

"But they enjoy the life—for the present, at least. My daughter will turn from a busy morning full of poultry and dairy details and say with enthusiasm: 'Mother, there is no life like this Canadian farming.' But to get that point of view one has to be young coming into this country," continued Lady Von Haast gravely, "young enough to be able to look forward to ease and comfort in a reasonable time."

Of New Zealand then this entertaining visitor gave a coup d'oeil from the semi-tropical luxuriance of the northern portion to the temperate south. Incidentally Lady Von Haast touched on the beauties and distinctive character of Christchurch, which was founded by English churchmen in 1850, and still retains the atmosphere of an old English cathedral town.

"The death of Mr. Seddon will not in any measure, I believe, affect the country's policy discouraging immigration," said Lady Von Haast. "It is so distinctly in the country's best interests to discriminate in the persons allowed to enter that I do not believe the laws will be altered."

That was the true New Zealander speaking. A word of the cultured Maori natives permitted an interesting comparison with the condition of our own native tribes.

From New Zealand it did not seem—in Lady Von Haast's company—an abrupt transition to Polish and Viennese topics. One learned again from a resident of Vienna, what we have heard in Canada from many sources, that the humblest subjects of Francis Joseph inherit more hope of happiness and usefulness than any of that luckless ruling family of Hapsburgs.

The gaiety of the Viennese, the charm and beauty of the Rumanian people, the less attractive Bohemians, the artistic Poles—from people to people Lady Von Haast turned easily upon the least enquiry, thoroughly at home with each.

Of a church in Cracow she told a pretty tale indicative of the tenacity with which the Poles cling to memories of their former national glory and national struggles. The tale is about a beautiful old Gothic church in Cracow, and the last rays of Alberta sun piercing the Madras hangings of Mrs. Ferris' study window just permitted me to write the name—Marienkirche, St. Mary's church.

Two beautiful towers surmount the church and on a gallery between a watchman paces, and at each hour plays a hauntingly beautiful chorale on a flute. To the stranger it is inexplicable that the exquisite air ends abruptly always, and is never played to the close. But to the native of Cracow it recalls the tragedy of a faithful watchman shot during the last rising in Poland by their enemies whilst he played the chorale. At the note on which the dying man abruptly stopped his successors end their playing. It is so that the high-spirited Pole retains every memory of the past.

SOCIAL.

Miss Boyd, of Carberry, who has been the guest of Mrs. Charles May for some time, leaves today for home. In Winnipeg, the guest of Mrs. W. H. Ozard, en route to Ottawa.

The young ladies of Alberta College will hold their second annual reception on next Monday afternoon from four to six in Mrs. Riddell's apartments.

The south end of Third street was the centre of attraction socially yesterday afternoon as people found their way to the reception for Mrs. Scott at Government House and thence across the street to the post-nuptial reception of Mrs. John McDougall, jr. At Government House Mrs. Walter Scott, receiving with Mrs. Bulvea, was welcomed to Edmonton by a number of friends and acquaintances. Mrs. Bulvea was attired in a cream voile gown with dainty chiffon trimmings.

Mrs. Scott wore a gown of black net with black velvet trimmings and touches of light blue. Mrs. Ewing received the callers in the tea room where a very artistic arrangement of pale green and white decorated the polished table where the refreshments lay. White carnations were strewn prettily on pale green satin ribbons that crossed the table; a tall vase of carnations rose from an exquisite Honiton centrepiece, the whole effectively lit by candles with shades of filigree silver and delicate green silk. Those who called throughout the afternoon included all the familiar names of Edmonton's society.

Mrs. John McDougall's pretty little home was bright yesterday with lights and yellow chrysanthemums, and the streams of welcoming people who came to greet the young bride in her new home. Mrs. McDougall, attired in a dainty gown of white silk with chiffon trimmings, was assisted in receiving by Mrs. John McDougall, sr., and Miss Alice McDougall. In the tea room tea and coffee were poured by Mrs. Hardisty, Mrs. D. R. Fraser, Mrs. R. Secord and Mrs. T. H. Whitlaw. They were assisted by a bevy of young girls in looking after the wants of the guests.

In addition to the gowns described yesterday as being worn at the Opening ceremonies of Parliament this year, a few others are added:

Mrs. Robertson, High River (Alberta), gown of mauve pailletted net over chiffon and taffeta.

Miss Dora Oliver, white chiffon embroidered with silver, mounted on pink chiffon and satin.

Mrs. Philip Roy, of Edmonton, pale pink chiffon embroidered with blue flowers over pink silk and chiffon.

Mrs. McHugh, Calgary, a beautiful Paris creation of black sequins, inset with real lace and embroidery of silver sequins.

Miss Clara Oliver, blue chiffon velvet, the skirt inset with motifs in Bruges lace, the bodice shirred with a Vandyke bertha of Bruges lace sewn with silver sequins.

SEEING WELL AND SEEING EASILY

It is more important to see easily than to see well.

Good sight may be obtained by great strain, which drains vitality, causing headaches and nervousness.

By four independent tests we exactly measure eye defects, and prescribe perfect glasses, which relieve all eye defects.

Over 1500 people in this district wear our glasses, and every one of them is a living guarantee for us.
